ORTON-GILLINGHAM ASSOCIATE LEVEL TRAINING

This course is specifically designed for those wishing to work with dyslexic learners or learners who are specifically struggling with reading and spelling. This comprehensive training prepares educators and interventionists with knowledge and tools to implement direct and explicit multisensory literacy lessons that focus on being diagnostic and prescriptive and tailoring instruction specifically to the student in front of you. Tiers: 2 and 3

REQUIREMENTS

To complete the Associate level training course, trainees must attend all course hours and complete all assignments. Trainees must also complete the OGA Associate level reading list with written responses. Trainees must have a Bachelor's degree from an accredited institution in any area of study to register.

COURSE MATERIALS

Course includes over $300 in physical training materials, access to over 400 digital files and access to over 9 hours of additional video training resources.

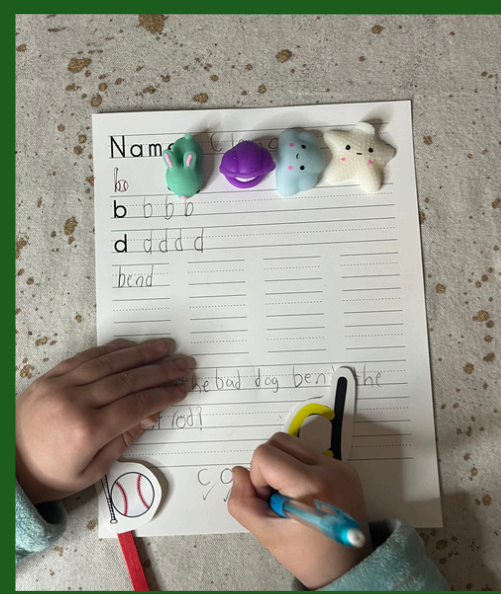

Trainees will be responsible for purchasing a copy of The Gillingham Manual.

Casey Welsh is an Accredited Training Fellow with the Orton-Gillingham Academy and a Structured Literacy Dyslexia Specialist with CERI/IDA. She has her Master's in Education in Curriculum Development and Dyslexia. Casey owns Savannah Dyslexia, a private practice for Orton-Gillingham tutoring in Savannah, GA. She has provided extensive Orton-Gillingham training at the Classroom, Associate, and Certified levels. With two dyslexic sons, Casey has made it her mission to reach students and give them the tools they need for success, as well as train teachers and interventionists to ensure all students have access to scientifically proven reading instruction.
